Noted Stage Star Found Dead In Car

OLD BROOKVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 24.—(UP)—Clad in an evening gown and an expensive fur coat, Rosamond Pinchot, actress and niece of the former governor of Pennsylvania, was found dead today in her automobile in the garage of an estate she rented here.

A length of garden hose led from the exhaust pipe of the automobile through a rear window and into the car. Police said the beautiful 32-year-old daughter of Amos Pinchot apparently had committed suicide by inhaling carbon monoxide fumes.

HAWAII ROCKED BY EARTHQUAKE

HONOLULU, T. H., Jan. 24.—(UP)—Natives watched towering Mauna Loa on the island of Hawaii uneasily today, fearful that Saturday night's violent earth tremors presaged another eruption of that mountain, the largest active volcano in the world.

Dr. Thomas Jaggar, volcanologist at Kilanea observatory, located the origin of the disturbance 150 miles from Mauna Loa, however, and said it had occurred below the ocean floor.

Sky Flashed Green

The tremors were similar to those that preceded Mauna Loa's eruption in 1935 and were the most violent recorded here in 20 years. The earth shook and trembled and the sky seemed to flash green for 45 minutes.

Scientists observed no unusual activity about the crater of Mauna Loa, but the volcanoes which piled up these islands in the middle of the Pacific are believed by natives to be slumbering demons that may awaken and destroy the islands and they were not easily reassured.

"Madame Pele (Volcano Goddess) fell out of bed," an old woman remarked.

Strange Lights Seen

The shocks sent hundreds scurrying from hotels and theaters late Saturday night. From here, on the island of Oahu, the strange lights seemed to be above Diamond Head, which lies on the southern edge of the island.

The island of Hawaii lies south-east of here. On Maui, between Oahu and Hawaii, natives saw a blinding flash that extended for miles across the sky between the villages of Kula and Paia.

In Honolulu, telephone service was interrupted, dinner guests fled from the thatched cottages along Waikiki Beach. On Maui, six fishermen were partly buried by a slide and rescued. Several pipelines were broken.

KENNEDY SUPPORTS ROOSEVELT POLICY

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—(UP)—President Roosevelt will cooperate if business "trots out" its problems and offers some idea of what must be done, according to Joseph P. Kennedy, newly-appointed ambassador to Great Britain.

"Business is better equipped to devise plans for solving its problems, for no individual or government can be expected to have all the information to serve a particular industry," he said.

"Government efforts have produced some mistakes, but tell me any industry that hasn't made mistakes. The steps taken by the President have been more progressive than any taken by industry," he said.

SUPER-POWER RADIO RAPED BY CRAVEN

TWO ARE KILLED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(UP)—The federal communications commission in a report today lauded American broadcasting services, but found that further regulation may become necessary for establishment and enforcement of standards of service.

The report, drafted by Commissioner T. A. M. Craven as former head of the engineering department and released by Chairman Frank R. McNinch, warned against additional super-power stations, such as station W.L.W., operated at Cincinnati by the Crosley Radio Corporation. It pointed out that by this medium of super-power reaching the entire nation, such stations might squeeze out local broadcasters. Approximately 15 applications for super power stations are now filed with the commission.

The commission has announced a policy of not granting general licenses for one individual to operate more than one station in a locality. It was explained that such ruling was not inflexible, however.

He had long been under suspicion after it was reported that he was "on the fence," unable to decide whether to accept proposals made by the Japanese to cooperate with them before they launched their offensive against Shantung.

Reduce U. S. Troops

United States authorities were planning to reduce the American military forces in the Shanghai area by one half within a month, it was reported. The U. S. Transport Chaumont was scheduled to leave next month with the Sixth regiment of U. S. Marines, leaving behind about 1200 men.

Great Britain is also planning a reduction in man power but Brig. Gen. A. P. D. Telfer-Smollett, commander of the British forces in the Shanghai area, said that the reduction depends on circumstances. He said nothing definite had yet been decided beyond replacement of the 2nd battalion of Welsh Fusiliers by an equal number of Seaforth Highlanders from Hongkong the first week in February.

Honeymooners Get Cold Reception At Niagara

Love gets a mighty cold reception at this time of year at Niagara Falls, N. Y., mecca of honeymooners. The rushing torrent is turned into a spectacle of icy grandeur by winter's frigid magic. Gigantic icicles hang from the rocks at the side and winds waft frozen spray over the few hardy spectators who venture to the edge of the gorge. But the cold has not yet stilled the roar of the main stream.

DAFT ANTICS OF INSTRUMENTS MAKE JAYSEE EXPERTS FRANTIC

Consternation reigns today at the junior college meteorological station. Instruments have gone hay-wire and murmurs of "unusual weather" can be heard all over the place.

The barometer reading at 8 a.m. was 30.47, the highest in the annals of the weather station, according to Tom Hudspeth, observer, and is still climbing at press time.

The hygrometer, the instrument that measures the relative humidity, recorded "zero," an impossible phenomenon, Hudspeth said, since that would mean there was absolutely no moisture in the air, and having done the impossible, did a double back flip and gave up.

"Arthur," the name given to our thermometer by the Jaysee students, also had a hand in the "unusual" weather, recording a minimum low of 56 degrees which is nearly 20 degrees higher than normal.

Asked about the maximum wind velocity last night, Hudspeth just groaned. "The anemometer, wind gadget to you, is on the Fritz and as far as the station is concerned, there was no wind last night."

Paul Garcia, 32, 621 Wellington, Santa Ana, was booked at county jail early yesterday on charge of being drunk, committing assault and resisting an officer. He was arrested by Officers L. C. Rogers and Ralph Pantuso.

A 16-year-old Anaheim boy was held in county jail for juvenile authorities today, following his arrest by Anaheim police on charges of burglary and grand theft. Arthur Sullivan, 40, Fullerton, was arrested by Brea police and Constable William Tremaine on a grand theft charge Saturday, Justice A. C. Early setting bail at $2500. Sullivan is an oil promoter, he said. Justice John Landau, San Juan Capistrano, set bail at $50 for Salvador Rivas, 26, San Bernardino, arrested Saturday on a disturbance of the peace charge.

SPAIN TORN BY TONS OF BOMBS

HENDAYE, French-Spanish frontier, Jan. 24.—(UP)—Nationalist and Loyalist airplanes and warships carried terror and death to Spanish cities and villages in a series of raids which lasted from dawn to dark Sunday, dispatches to the frontier said today.

Nationalists bombarded Valencia, Barcelona, Puigcerda, See, Urgell, Port Ross and Figueras. Several bombs dropped by the Puigcerda raiders fell in French territory and caused French authorities to wire urgently to Paris for anti-aircraft guns and planes.

Seville Bombed

Localists in retaliation for the Puigcerda raid sent 12 bombers to drop five tons of bombs on Seville, Nationalist general headquarters for Southern Spain.

Loyalists asserted that in their first "eye for an eye" raid on Salamanca Friday they destroyed the general headquarters of the Germans, units aiding the Nationalists, and killed several members of the German general staff.

It was believed that more than 30 persons were killed at Puigcerda. Twelve were reported killed at Port Ross and 14 killed and 50 wounded at Figueras.

Gen. Gonzalo Queipo De Llano, Nationalist commander in chief in the south, asserted that 11 children, 10 men and three women were killed in the Loyalist raid on Seville.

Miss Pinchot was the wife of William Gaston, playwright, world war flier and member of the old Massachusetts family. They had two children, William Jr., born a year after their marriage in 1925, and James P. Gaston, 5.

Seemed Happy

A friend of the actress who had lunch with her a few days ago said Miss Pinchot had seemed happy and had discussed a new show in Boston for which she had arranged the off-stage noise effects.

This friend added, however, that Miss Pinchot had sometimes been depressed by her inability to get along with Gaston who was described as "the one love of her life."

They were separated and reconciled several times but were living apart at her death.

S. A. BOOKLET DRAWS FIRE OF BEACH CHAMBER

Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce's recently published advertising booklet today drew a barrage of criticism from William H. Gallienne, executive secretary of the Huntington Beach Chamber of Commerce.

In a letter addressed to Secretary Howard L. Wood, of the Santa Ana organization, Gallienne charged that the booklet left Huntington Beach in the background.

"Forgotten City"

Gallienne's letter declared: "We have been working for better transportation to Santa Ana and for more cooperation between merchants to keep business in Orange county and yet we find ourselves as has been in the past, in the eyes of Santa Ana, a forgotten city who pays and pays and cannot receive recognition."

"You have told the story of Laguna with five pictures, Newport and Balboa with seven pictures and San Clemente with one picture.

Enumerates Assets.

"But when we think that Huntington Beach has the largest assessed valuation on the coast line and the second largest in Orange county, and gives to the officers of Orange county a great portion of its wealth, namely $23,000,000 per year for oil and petroleum products of which Huntington Beach pays a big share, has the finest, safest, cleanest, widest bathing beach on the coast of California, has the longest municipal concrete pier for fishing and pleasure on the coast.

"Has the best fishing ground on the coast, namely 'Halibut Flats' where fishermen from Newport, Balboa, San Clemente and other points catch most of their fish.

"Has made a larger percentage of gain in entertaining beach crowds and tourists during the past two seasons, than any other beach community, yet Santa Ana leaves Huntington Beach out of their new booklet that is to advertise Santa Ana and the 'Orange County Forty Miles of Colorful Coast'."

Wood Explains Effort.

Commenting on Gallienne's letter, Wood said Santa Ana has a high regard for Huntington Beach and wants to be on the friendliest terms with that community.

He pointed out that in preparing the booklet, no effort was made to cover every county community. Rather, he declared, the coverage was attempted on the basis of classifying the various resources and advantages offered the tourist and home seeker by the county as a whole. The resources and advantages of the county, he said, were covered on the basis of agriculture, citrus, oil, scenery, industry, fishing, beaches, mountains, recreation, parks, water resources and flood control without regard to communities.

The double page section devoted to "Orange County Forty Miles of Colorful Coast," Wood said, mentioned no towns but referred, generally, to the entire county coast line.

$50,000 DAMAGES DEMANDED IN SUIT

A $50,000 damage suit developed in superior court today as the aftermath of an automobile crash at Dana Point last October 24, when a car driven by Alden E. Moras, newspaperman, collided with a car operated by C. D. Dwyer.

Moras sued Dwyer and W. J. Soane for $20,000 for his injuries, Mrs. Ivy Moras asking $30,000 damages. The two plaintiffs asked special damages of $634 in addition.

Fullerton Girl Demands $15,500 For Broken Nose

Vivian Forster, 18-year-old Fullerton girl, who tumbled through a trap door into a cellar and broke her nose, while a customer at the Shipkey and Pearson service station, 515 North Spadra road, Fullerton, last October 31, today had filed suit in superior court for $15,500 damages.

The girl filed suit through her father, George H. Forster, as guardian, and named Shipkey and Pearson, the Rio Grande Oil corporation, and the Richfield corporation as defendants.

CITRUS PLANT, CONCRETE PIPE FIRM EXPAND

Contracts totalling $70,000 recently have been awarded for improvements and additions to two industrial plants in this city.

Topping the list is the work of remodelling the old chewing gum factory on South McClay street and installation of machinery there for the Citrus Juice and Flavor Company, Ltd., at a total cost of $50,000.

Gets New Machinery

The second contract was for construction of a building and installation of an air tapp machine for the Peerless Concrete Pipe Corporation at West Fifth and King streets at a total cost of $20,000.

Several months ago, the Citrus

Juice and Flavor company on 101 highway, Orange, purchased the old chewing gum factory in Santa

Ana and announced plans to move the industry to this city. The gum factory, never finished by the owners, has been remodeled and workers are now installing new machinery.

Large, Reinforced Pipe

O. W. Connell, manager of the plant, said that a test run was made at the new plant yesterday and that he expects to have the plant in full operation within another month.

The Peerless Concrete Pipe Corp-

recently purchased the property adjoining its present plant and has started construction of a new building to house an air tapp pipe manufacturing machine. With this equipment, officials of the company declare, they will be able to manufacture large size, reinforced pipe, something that has been impossible with present equipment.

The improvement at the plant will cost approximately $20,000.

To Establish Rating

Miss Gerritt held a teaching contract with Fullerton junior college, and held permanent rating there.

She had been employed part of the time as teacher in the high school, without contract, and claimed per-mament rating in the high school also. Her suit was to establish such rating. Attorneys Forgy, Reinhuis and Forgy, of Santa Ana, filed her complaint.

Assistant District Attorney Preston Turner, representing the school district, filed a general demurer, to the teacher's complaint, without leave to amend, this amounting to a dismissal of the action.

FIFTH PATROL BOAT WILL BE BUILT SOON

The Fish and Game Commission through its president, Dr. E. C. Moore, announced today that work will start shortly on the construction of a fifth patrol boat for Southern California waters. The boat will be of the same general design as the patrol boats now operating in southern waters and will be gased at Santa Catalina Island.

The boat to be christened "Tuna" at the suggestion of the Tuna club, will have an overall length of 45 feet and a 10-foot beam. It will be powered with twin Hall Scott motors embracing certain refinements over the previous patrol boat installations. As the boat will be assigned to night as well as day patrol, it is planned to raise the pilot-house on the new boat to afford better visibility. Cities Accomplishments

Carl F. Johnson, president of the state-wide Fish and Game Development association, points out that the collection of the license fee for ocean fishing has made possible the construction and maintenance of an ocean fish patrol fleet in Southern California waters. "Two and one-half years ago an ocean fish patrol fleet was little more than a dream; today it is an actuality. The Fish and Game Development association is proud to have played a part in encouraging the enforcement of the fishing license law, because through such enforcement we have been able to secure patrol boats. It is unfortunate we did not have patrol in ocean waters 10 years ago. Fishing conditions would be far healthier had this been the case."

The various patrol boats are now based at San Diego, Newport-Balboa, Santa Monica and Santa Barbara. The basing of the new boat at Santa Catalina Island will augment the service materially.

Winter Salads To Be Shown Tuesday

Winter salads for all occasions will be demonstrated at 2 p.m., tomorrow at the cooking school held in the Y. W. C. A., 105 East Fifth street, under sponsorship of the Southern Counties Gas company.

Mrs. Margaret Lackland, home economics director, who will be in charge of the class, said "many a wife who walls that her husband loathes salads might sing a different song were she to learn to cater to masculine taste in this important branch of the cuisine. The average husband does not want his salad tricked out, so save the cucumber boats, the tomato cups and the cute little orange baskets for the afternoon bridge club. Serve something simple to shape and ingredients and tasty as to dressing."

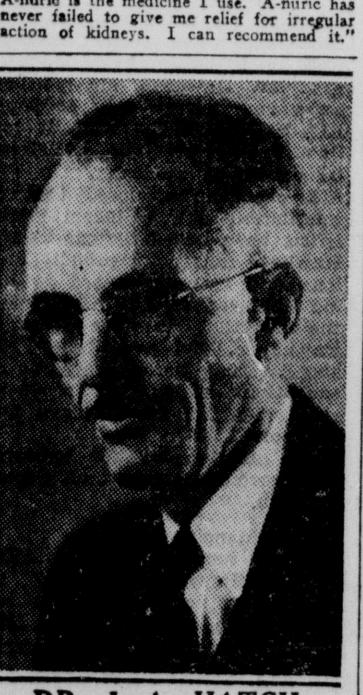

Christian Science

The words of the Psalmist: "Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long-suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth," were the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Truth" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Lesson-Sermon included these Bible selections from John: "Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life... I have many things to say and to judge of you; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.... And he spake these words, many believed on him. Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are

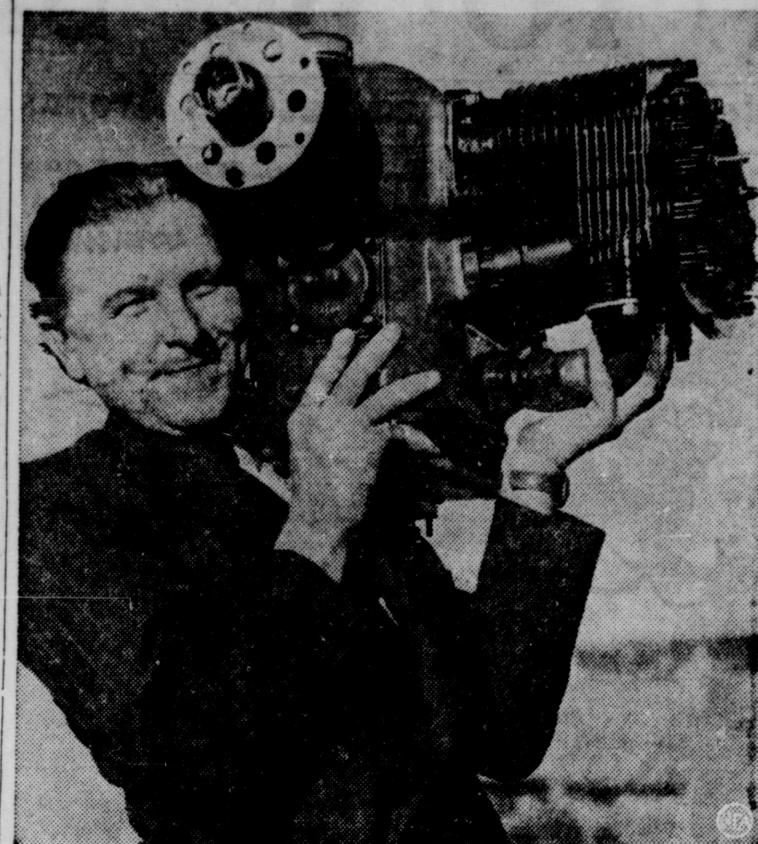

GET UP AT NIGHT?

A DIURETIC stimulant such as Dr. Pierce's A-nuric is often indicated and usually it is sufficient to relieve minor kidney irregularities. These A-nuric Tablets put up by Dr. Pierce and sold by druggists, price 65¢ a package, are of value in relieving the burning and soreness and the desire for frequent urination caused by or associated with excess acid, and they tend to ease the flow of urine. Mrs. Charlotte Tetu of 416 E. Union, Los Angeles, writes: "Whenever my kidneys act irregularly—secretions passing too often—Dr. Pierce's A-nuric is the medicine I use. A-nuric has never failed to give me relief for irregular action of kidneys. I can recommend it."

COMMUNITY PLAYERS GET 'BIG JITTERS' AS CAMERAS CLICK

Aware of exactly how the Christian martyrs felt when put to the test to make a Roman holiday, members of the current Community play cast preparing to stage "The Late Christopher Bean," had their latest rehearsal considerably interrupted by activities of Orange County Camera club.

It has come to be an accepted part of any community play to have Camera club members select some evening's rehearsal as opportunity for a veritable Roman holiday of picture taking and candid camera orgies. So when they appeared at The Barn for the rehearsal late last week, the players knew exactly what to expect.

"Never a Signal"

"There is never any signal for them to start taking these pictures," today declared the "Abby" of the cast, Mrs. Robert Horn. "As a result we hold our positions for what seems an eternity, when the lights begin to flash. Our muscles freeze and our eyes grow glassy. Our smiles become so set that we look like the famous Cheshire Cat, or if we happen to be looking serious, we know we must look like caricatures of a judge. Moreover we're afraid to say a word lest we're snapped with our mouths stretched wide."

Just during the past Christmas vacation the son of one of my friends was killed by one of these murderous toys. Accidental, of course, but nevertheless it chalked up one more needless death.

Couldn't the leaders of boys and girls organizations do something about this? It is a job especially for boys and leaders of boys—the Boy Scouts, the State Audubon societies, and all the school organizations for peace. It isn't a job for one person. Our boys and young men must shoulder that burden. Save our youngsters from their own thoughtless carnage. Carnage of human lives as well as those of thousands of our song and other insectivorous birds that are daily being used as living targets by small boys.

DAKOTANS PLAN FETE

Camera club members turned out in such numbers at the recent rehearsals that they almost crowded the Players out of The Barn during the picture-taking operations.

Among those present were Ted Cook and Harlan Kittle, Laguna Beach; Walter Lehnhardt, Garden Grove; Northrop Ellis, Anaheim; Gordon Ethington, Huntington Beach; Milan Miller, Burr Shaffer, O. F. Smith, Beryl Jenifer, Spurgeon Sparks, Tommy Enomoto, Felton Browning and Wilbur Knipe, Santa Ana.

Santa Ana Youth Gains Promotion

Edgar Pankey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Pankey, of Lemon Heights, and a senior at Pomona College, today was honored with promotion to the rank of cadet first lieutenant in the Pomona Reserve Officers training corps.

Pankey is a member of Sigma Tau fraternity. The R. O. T. C. company which he directs has just been awarded the honor pennant for competition during the past month of college work.

"He's never been known to buy a book, but the manager thinks he helps to sell them in this department."

TOWNSEND TOPICS

Mrs. M. Pierce has returned to just a social time was had by all Southern California from her home at Dallas, Texas, and for the time being will make her home in Santa Ana at 102 South Broadway. Mrs. Pierce will be remembered by many of the Townsend oldtimers who were closely connected with the headquarters at Los Angeles when Frank Arbuckle was the big noise and A. M. Bliss was regional director of 11 western states.

D. Jefferson of Los Angeles is in the city this week visiting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Ange. Ange is well known in Santa Ana as he is at the head of the Goodwill.

Townsend members who are securing signers on the petitions to be presented to the Governor should call a special session of the state legislature should not relax in their work because of word going out that the special session will not be called. No one can truthfully give out that information except the governor and he has not said that there will not be a special session in February. In addition it may be added that Dr. Francis E. Townsend has approved the manner in which the petitions are being handled in the 19th Congressional District and you are urged upon the approval by Dr. Townsend to keep on pouring your petitions into the Townsend headquarters to J. H. Walsh at 509 West 4th street.

Walter Lock who has been on the sick list for some time is reported to be some better at the present time.

Townsend Club No. 1 of Tustin staged their big free chicken dinner to the new members they secured during the membership drive, Friday night at their headquarters at Main and A street. They had considerably over 100 at the banquet tables that were beautifully arranged and decorated. No special program was arranged but

Roy J. Webb who has been in the 19th congressional district for a few weeks left Saturday for Chicago where he will resume his work as organizer in the state of Illinois.

Harry C. Westover, state senator from Orange county, was the speaker of the evening at the Townsend meeting last night at Orange. Mrs. Abbie Gould is president of Townsend Club No. 2 of Orange.

D. L. Thomas, president of Townsend club No. 1 of Tustin and John Sauer, Congressional Board member of Tustin are right on their toes in getting dynamic speakers and getting them booked away ahead of time. They have booked through the local speaker's bureau Joe Nation for Monday night, January 31, and have filed their application for Mrs. Julia A. Shard, sister-in-law of Judge M. C. Summers, for Monday, February 28. The Tustin club is one of the very active clubs in the district at the present time and if Mr. Sauer and Mr. Thomas have anything to say about it their club is going to stay in the lead.

According to notice sent out by Judge George Sorkness of Hemet, or rather ordered to be sent out by the secretary, John A. Cubley of Corona, there will be a meeting Monday, January 24 at 2 p.m. at the city hall at Corona.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Lozier of Medford, Oregon, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller of Orange, left Saturday morning for Long Beach where Mr. Lozier as a Congressional Board member from the 1st congressional district of Oregon will hold a conference with Dr. Francis E. Townsend relative to matters in his district in the northern state.

NEW FOOTBALL
COACH TUESDAY

The PAYOFF

By HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

Texas, long a great developing ground for baseball players, rapidly is attaining the same steady efficiency in golf and football.

Among the Lone Star state's front men of the fairways are Harry Cooper, Ralph Guldahl, Byron Nelson, and Bill Mehrlhorn, who will do until you can think of a more able quartet from one commonwealth.

No locality has made such tremendous strides in football in recent years.

Hunt, blue-eyed, brown-haired, and only 32, likes to hunt and fish, but does little of either as long as he can find someone with whom to talk football.

Hunt, who stands 5 feet 10½ inches and weighs 165 pounds, three under the playing weight of his college days, understands players and persons popular with them. He's able to convince his backs that he knows what he is talking about because he still can outwit and outpass the best of them. He always is in top condition.

He probably will employ the Warner single wingback, which is used by Bernie Moore at Louisiana State, but has very definite ideas of his own.

Hunt applied for the Georgia job soon after Mehre's resignation. He had such fine recommendations that Bulldog officials interviewed him personally, and soon engaged him.

HUNT GOES TO GEORGIA WITH BACKGROUND

Hunt was head coach at the College of Marshall, Tex., in 1928-29, where his club won the junior championship of the cow country. After three seasons as backfield coach at Texas A. & M. under Matty Bell, he went to L. S. U. in the same capacity under Maj. Buff Jones.

He was All-Southwest Conference quarterback in 1925-6-7, playing hero roles in the championships won by Dana X. Bible's Texas A. & M. teams in '25-7. He was the outstanding performer in an East-West game in San Francisco.

Hunt did such things as punt, pass, call signals, block, run, and kick field goals for the Aggies.

Hunt was born at Texico, N. M., where his paternal grandfather was a prominent government official of territorial days. He is devoted to Mrs. Hunt, the former Evelyn Eckles of Baton Rouge, and their two-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Nancy Joe.

Joel Hunt combines the steadiness of Dana X. Bible, who drilled him, and the backfield imagination and brilliance of a triple threat. He is tremendously enthusiastic about his first big coaching opportunity: Roseretter was never in the hunt.

For Top Row it was the first step on a comeback campaign whose objective is the $100,000 Santa Anita—the race he won two years ago. Making his first start since April 1936, Top Row was pitched in against fancy sprinters, and he didn't figure to beat them first out. Outrun down the backstretch, hopelessly out of it at the turn for home, Top Row began picking up steam as he sailed down the stretch and he was charging fast at the finish. He did manage to beat Brown Jade, the favorite, out of fourth money.

The race fell to the clever Woodberry, which got up in the closing strides to nip Dogaway, with Capt. Cal a strong-going third.

Top Row came out of his race in fine shape. He was bucking and kicking in the stall this morning, and Owner Bert Baroni was well pleased with his charge's performance.

The Trojans, trailing the Bears in second place in division standings, are favored to win the double-header or at least split the bill.

Stanford's Cardinals go south to play U.C.L.A. in a weekend series that is expected to boost the Palo Altoans into higher percentage brackets. Stanford was pre-season favorite to win the division title, largely on the basis of Angelo ("Hank") Luisetti's performances.

Two setbacks by S. C. and California, however, pushed the Cardinals into third place with one conference win and two losses.

He said he returned the first contract sent to him last week. The new contract is in the mails, he said.

McLemore Has Day With Irvin S. Cobb

By HENRY MCLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SANTA MONICA — If this isn't a good column, it's all my fault, because I'm writing on a typewriter that belongs to a pretty fair country writer—Irvin S. Cobb.

I only hope that the typewriter, too, is a creature of habit that this one will in distinctly form fine phrases, even when a very inferior operator is at the keyboard.

Knowing that I was a golfer, the Kentuckian from Paducah asked me to come to see him and enjoy golf in the right way.

"And don't bring your clubs," he advised. "They spoil the game."

Mr. Cobb's home is pitched on a high hill near the sea, and his front lawn commands a sweeping view of the Riviera Country club's golf course. It was on this lawn that we settled ourselves in deep chairs, armed with bourbon highballs smoother than a kitten's ear.

"I was once a golfer myself," Mr. Cobb said, "but I quit it when my blood pressure got as high as my score. A man can't trifle with a blood pressure of 200 or thereabouts. So I searched and searched until I found this place, squarely on a golf course. You will notice that it overlooks most of the traps. I love to sit here at this time of day, when the sun is warm, and the bourbon is in bloom, and watch and listen to the golfers in the sand below. Listen, and you can hear their low moans, their agonizing cries."

An colored boy served us a beer.

"An old family retainer," Mr. Cobb said. "Almost one of the family. Been with us, boy and man, for almost a week."

A man in knickers advanced solemnly into a yawning canyon below us.

He carried his club as though a caddied snake awaited his arrival.

"See that poor soul," Mr. Cobb said. "The Sabbath is a day of rest, but watch him. He'll have the labor relations board on him before he gets

AMERICAN NETTERS WIN IN AUSTRALIA

FIREMEN DEFEATED BY FILM NINE, 4-2

ADELAIDE, Australia—(UP)—Touring United States tennis players, led by Don Budge, Oakland Calif., who ranks at No. 1 in the world, scored three straight-set victories today in the Adelaide championships.

In a second-round mixed doubles match, Budge and Dorothy May Bundy of Santa Monica, Cal., beat Thomas Warhurst of South Australia, and Truda Cox of Victoria, New South Wales, 6-2, 6-2. In another second-round match, Mako and Dorothy Workman of Rosemead, Cal., beat Harry Haraldsen and Ivar Ballangrud, were second and third, respectively.

GOULD RULES OUT BAER BUT WANTS LOUIS

BY LESLIE AVERY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK — Former Heavyweight Champion Jimmy Braddock and Tommy Farr of Wales were expected to sign contracts today for a return bout this spring.

Braddock's win over the Welshman last Friday night gave his manager, Joe Gould, a commanding position in the heavyweight situation. He has ruled out Maxie Baer as the next opponent for the perennial Irishman despite a written agreement with Promoter Mike Jacobs for a Braddock-Baer fight March 11.

Gould, a shrewd manager left himself a "couple of outs" when the agreement was signed. They were "that the date and the terms" must prove to be acceptable. Gould, who steered Braddock to a title bout with Joe Louis despite court action to force him to comply with three Madison Square Garden contracts to meet Max Schmeling, can say today "no terms and no date will be acceptable."

Knowing that "young" Braddock's 32-year old legs will not carry him through more than one or two more good fights, Gould is gunning for another shot at the crown. He would like to get one of the two "tuneup" matches Louis plans after meeting Natie Mann next month, but he knows the odds are against it. Promoter Mike is not likely to take this chance of spoiling the scheduled Louis title defense against Schmeling in June.

Gould's "asking" price for a return bout with Farr is $50,000, but he probably will sign for less—or a good gate percentage. There is little doubt that another Farr-Braddock fight would be as successful financially as last week's. And, Farr probably would be willing to accept haircut money for the chance to redeem himself.

According to Gould, Braddock will not fight anyone March 11, tentatively date for the Baer fight.

"That's too soon," Gould says. "I want Jim to take a good rest before he steps into the ring again."

Jacobs is not certain what will happen to Baer. He explained that no contract had been signed with Maxie.

Baer and his big, younger brother, "Buff," had planned to arrive in New York Feb. 5, and Maxie had arranged to train for Braddock at Lakewood, N. J. Tony Galento, the Newark nightstick who trains on beer and cigars, might be his next opponent.

NAME HARRY MEHRE MISSISSIPPI COACH

OXFORD, Miss.—(UP)—Harry Mehre, for 10 years head coach at Georgia, last night signed a three-year contract as football coach and athletic director at the University of Mississippi.

Mehre will replace Ed Walker, who announced last month he would not be a candidate for reelection. Mississippi won four games last season, lost five and tied one.

Mehre played on Knute Rockne's teams at Notre Dame from 1919 to 1922. He won 59 games and lost 34 during the decade he coached at Georgia.

"Of course the loyalty of the true Hawkeye fan is proverbial," chuckled the noted maestro of the turf, "but when perfect strangers walk up to me in the paddock and say 'Mr. Hawkeye, sir, you sure know your horses—how do you do it?'" he continued, "it looks like I've really got something," he concluded modestly.

A check-up disclosed that this was indeed so, most incontrovertibly so, as attested by one and all. Hawkeye fans point proudly to his long and lustrous record as leading handicapper, bar none, and to the fact that Hawkeye horses always win, and aver that Friday and Saturday were merely two rare exceptions which but prove the rule when his astute plays failed to score.

The astute play for tomorrow: Two coconuts straight on Osculate in fifth.

PIGARD TRAILS

NELSON THIRD

BY JACK GUNTHNER

PASADENA.—Sixty professionals and 20 amateurs started down the tree-bordered fairways of Brooks Park course today for the final 18 holes of the Pasadena Open golf tournament, and again Jimmie Thomson of Shawnee-on-Delaware Park, led the way.

A dozen players were within reaching distance of the $3000 prize money, and any was capable of taking it. But closest of all was Thomson, whom most of the experts had counted out for the strange reason that he is the world's longest driver. His booming wood shots, they said, would do more harm than help on the Brookside layout, which is liberally trapped and sprinkled with trees and shrubbery.

For the first two days this was partly true; Thomson scored 69 then 73. Yesterday, however, he dusted his battered putter and toured the first nine in 35, one under par. On the 10th tee Thomson found his true range, and began playing almost mechanically. He came home with three's on seven holes, posted a 29 for the second half, and swept into the tournament lead with a new course record of 64 and an aggregate of 206.

Thomson's most serious challenger today was Harry Picard of Hershey, Pa., who was in front at the halfway mark. Picard continued steady, accurate striking for 67-66-71-207, just a shot ahead of Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., the only player who could match Thomson in the par-breaking spree.

Nelson, holding 73-71 for his first two tries, matched the 64 and tied the course record with a 34-30. In doing it, he shot the only eagle-three ever recorded on the 489 yard 15th hole, laying his spoon approach shot seven feet from the pin.

Horton Smith of Chicago held undisputed possession of fourth place with 69-71-69-209, and was given the strongest chance of catching Thomson. Behind him came ties for almost every position.

Three players deadlocked at 210—Al Zimmerman, Portland; John Revolta, Evanston, Ill., and Olin Dutra, Los Angeles; and five more at 211—Charles Guest, Los Angeles; Emery Zimmerman, Portland; Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y.; Jimmy Hines, Garden City, N. Y., and Ky Lafoon, Chicago.

The field was cut to the low 50 professionals and ties and 20 amateurs with four major casualties, Ted Longworth of Portland, Mortie Dutra, Detroit; Leonard Ott of Denver and Roland McKenzie of Washington, D. C.

In gripping the ball, insert the thumb as far as it will go. This is contrary to the advice of some.

Keep your eyes off the pins. Some very fine bowlers advise you to watch the head pin constantly, but I insist that is wrong.

As I have stressed in previous articles, keep your eyes on a spot 12 or 14 feet down the alley.

This gives the bowler the tendency to follow through with his arm, rather than snapping the ball in delivery. The follow through is just as essential in bowling as it is in other sports. Watch that picked spot and try to guide the ball so that it rolls over the spot and follows a line to the head pin.

I can't stress the importance of finding the spot too much. Once I get the drift of an alley, I can bowl just as well blindfolded.

The final round today completes the winter schedule in Southern California. From here the players swing north for the Oakland Open Jan. 28.

SEATTLE BALL CLUB TO REPORT FEB. 23

SEATTLE.—(UP)—Manager Jack Lefevre of the Seattle baseball team of the Pacific Coast league said today the Rainiers will open their training camp at El Centro, Cal., Feb. 23.

Tom Gabrielson, left handed first baseman, has had two years experience in the Eastern league with Binghampton, New York Yankee farm club, was added to the Rainier roster. He was given a trial with Oakland last year.

He also spent part of the afternoon talking to W. P. Corbett, high school and junior college machine shop instructor, under whose supervision he made his own bats while playing high school and semi-pro baseball. Hershberger is mechanically inclined. He loves machinery.

Hershberger will report to the Cincinatti spring training camp in Florida, Feb. 28. He came to Fullerton to visit his sister, Mrs. Robert Finch, and to renew old acquaintance.

Like Vaughan, Hershberger is a sportsman. He loves to hunt and fish whenever he has an opportunity. That is one of the reasons why he has moved to Three Rivers, Cal.

"Whenever I feel like it, I can step out of the back door and go hunting or fishing," he explained. "I like that form of recreation."

Hershberger will report to the Cincinatti spring training camp in Florida, Feb. 28. He came to Fullerton to visit his sister, Mrs. Robert Finch, and to renew old acquaintance.

NEW YORK—(UP)—Jake Schaefer, of Chicago, 18.2 and 23.2 billiard champion, begins defense of the latter title against Welker Cochran, San Francisco challenger, today.

It will be a 350 point week-long match, played at the rate of two blocks of 250 points a day. Schaefer won the 18.2 title from Cochran 10 days ago, and is giving the Californian a chance at the 23.2 crown in return.

Phil Spitalny's all-girl orchestra, appearing in Chicago, salutes the Windy City. (KFI, 6:30)

"Marines Tell It To You" enacts the story of a near-revolution in Rio de Janeiro, and how a young marine was duly decorated by the president of Brazil. Talbot Pieroni is the show's new writer-producer. (KHFJ, 7)

GLENN MARTIN IN BATTLE FOR SEA AIR TRADE

(Special to The Register)
CLEVELAND, Jan. 24.—An American big business battle for a share of the international flying traffic appears certain for 1938.

The battle is foreshadowed with announcement that at least two companies are ready to launch new trans-oceanic airlines, seeking to break the monopoly which Pan American now holds.

In Cleveland the newly-organized American Export Airlines, Inc., of New York, revealed plans to compete with Pan American for a stake in the prospective Atlantic air trade. The second new American company, as yet unheralded, is also definitely due to enter the picture.

Plans envision fleets of super-modern, giant American flying boats, eventually big enough to accommodate 200 passengers each, overnight to Europe.

Pan American, already aerial pioneer of the seven seas and with 22 exploratory trans-Atlantic flights behind it, expects to launch regular service to Europe this summer. American Export, according to James M. Eaton, vice president, plans for first survey flights this summer and regular service a year hence.

Announcement by the third company has not been made, but Glenn L. Martin, pioneer airplane manufacturer and builder of the China Clipper, of the China Department of Commerce that he and unnamed associates were planning to enter the trans-Atlantic field with new, larger and faster long-range boats than ever built before. Pan American First Unquestionably the first Americans in the trans-Atlantic operation will be Pan American Airways. The vast company now operates 40,000 miles of airlines in and over 39 countries, was first to span the Pacific and, in cooperation with British Imperial Airways, made first trans-Atlantic exploratory flights last summer.

Ships the Final Step

Intensive meteorological and flight studies have been in progress for the last year over both projected Atlantic routes of Pan American. These are the shorter northern route by way of Newfoundland to Ireland, and the long good weather route by way of Bermuda and the Azores to Europe. Pilots have been in constant training on Pan American's other routes running into South America and the Orient.

The final step in the ships themselves, Pan American, according to J. Carol Cone, Atlantic division manager, expects delivery by spring of six 50-passenger Boeing flying boats, which are more than half again as large as the Martin clippers now in use on the Pacific.

In December Pan American called for bids on a minimum of three and a maximum of 24 trans-oceanic planes capable of carrying 100 passengers and cargo on non-stop flights of 5,000 miles.

Requested cruising speeds were 200 miles per hour at sea level and 300 miles for altitude flights. These would bring London within 12 hours of New York.

Looking to future transportation needs, the Export Steamship company of New York, running regular mail, freight and passenger lines to the Mediterranean and the Black Sea, first investigated trans-Atlantic flying more than two years ago, Mr. Eaton now reveals.

In April, 1937, American Export Airlines, Inc., was chartered as a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Export Steamship lines and under the direction of the same officers. These are W. H. Coverdale, president; John Slater, vice president and general manager; John Gehan, vice president and European director, and Eaton. Thomas Hitchcock is a director of both companies. No stock was offered.

Immediately the company's technical committee sought designs of a flying boat also with a range of 5,000 miles. The Glenn L. Martin Company, Sikorsky, the Douglas, Consolidated, and Boeing companies were consulted. American Export Airlines is now ready to place orders for 20-place non-stop sleeper planes, announces Eaton, once Washington formulates "a definite foreign policy as regards trans-Atlantic aviation." Larger ships would follow the traffic development.

A Tie-In With Steamships

Meantime, the new company holds 10 landing permits in Germany, France, Italy, Egypt and Greece. Whereas Pan American would fly by way of Bermuda and the Azores or the summer route by way of Newfoundland, the

Huge Martin Ocean Transport Rides Gear

Hauled out of the Martin airship factory in Baltimore, this huge Martin ocean transport is shown riding its beaching gear, preparatory to being launched for its first test run on the waters of Chesapeake Bay. This airplane has a wingspan of 157 feet, is 91 feet long and carries complete sleeping accommodations for 26 passengers. It is powered with four 1000-horsepower Cyclone engines.

Builder of the China Clipper, Glenn L. Martin, above, frankly doubts a limit to the size of tomorrow's trans-oceanic airliners.

American Export Airlines' Vice President James M. Eaton, above, plans survey flights across the Atlantic this summer.

American Export lines plans non-stop flights direct from New York to France and Portugal, thence to Italy, Greece and Egypt.

Pursuing the same intensive preparations as Pan American, the American Export company is training its steamship crews for co-operation with flying ships, transmitting weather information, bearings, etc. The ships would stand by in all emergencies. Pilots, say Eaton, are available.

The American Atlantic air trade representation is adequate to balance the combined operations of Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy. And American manufacturers are coming up with even larger ships to blaze the trail.

The Pace Is Terrific

Glenn Martin, for example, frankly doubts there will be a limit to the size of tomorrow's great flying boats. He started with the $2,000-pound China Clipper and he has just laid the fundamental design for a 250,000-pound, super-charged stratosphere ship to carry 200 passengers.

"Ships like that," admits the Pan American's Atlantic manager, "will make the new ships now under construction but not yet delivered, obsolete before they are put into operation."

Trans-oceanic plans are moving just that fast today.

PET TALKS

By Mrs. T. J. Neal

The lovely Cocker Spaniel named Flush which performed nightly on Broadway in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," passed on to her "kennel in the sky" just recently. She never missed a cue in 25,000 miles on the road and was loved by all who saw her in this play.

A canary that wheezes is in a bad condition and should not be allowed near other birds.

Dogs and cats often come to their death through carelessness of persons, often children, who buy a rubber band around the neck, tail or leg.

It has been found that goldfish are immune to the tuberculosis germs.

It is said that the Ferret is the soundest sleeper of all animals. One can pick them up while asleep, swing them around, pet them and they go right on dreaming.

A dog whose tail has been operated upon in anyway (except docking shortly after birth) is not eligible for showing in American Kennel club shows in Canada or the United States.

We, The People By JAY FRANKLIN

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Roosevelt's nomination of Stanley F. Reed, Solicitor-General of the United States, to the Sutherland vacancy on the supreme court shows quite clearly that the court no longer occupies an important position on the New Deal bill-of-fare.

A year ago, the President was preparing to gobble up the eminent tribunal by the proposal to enlarge its membership to 15. Months of hearings and debates were lavished on the judiciary reform bill and, when the administration finally withdrew the measure, Mr. Roosevelt promptly nominated Sen. Hugo Black of Alabama to the VanDevanter vacancy, thereby starting another huge controversy, whose echoes are even now continued in the coalition of Lincolnian Republicans and Jeffersonian Democrats to preserve intact the right of the states to tolerate lynching. (They say that at least one eminent senator from the piney-woods is being muzzled, lest he rise up and defend lynching as a fine old Southern institution).

Now—after canvassing the energetic, young liberal politicians and lawyers—the President has passed them over in favor of the able, dignified but exceedingly non-dramatic Solicitor-General of the United States, Mr. Stanley F. Reed. Mr. Reed is a Kentuckian, a fact which not only puts him across the Alleghenies into that sizable region known to the northeastern seaboard as "the West," but which makes him also "available" as a representative of a border state between south and north.

The library also has in the reading room 23 newspapers, including one New York and one Chicago paper.

their oligarchic theory of the divine right of federal judges, it is difficult to see how Mr. Reed can fall of confirmation. He will strengthen the middle-of-the-road group on the Court rather than reinforce the so-called "radical" wing, consisting of Mr. Justice Black and Mr. Justice Cardozo. He is closer to Mr. Justice Brandeis in his social outlook and will prepare the way for more liberal appointments should other members of the court elect to retire from the bench.

It is probable that Mr. Roosevelt wished no delay in filling the vacancy, which might have resulted had he named a more outstanding liberal. The New Deal policies respecting the utilities are coming shortly before the supreme court and the serious illness of Mr. Justice Cardozo, threatened to leave the New Deal still in a minority when the TVA and the holding company act come before the court for final determination.

One of the difficulties in filling these vacancies with justices more welcome to New Deal supporters is that the court itself is losing its old arrogance and is bending before the blast of reform legislation. After all, Andrew Jackson tamed the court for 20 years and it is probable that Franklin Roosevelt's 1937 campaign will have a similar result. In consequence few young or ambitious lawyers will ardently desire to be walled up with what amounts to an administrative federal commission for the clarification of the current meaning of existing statutes. To have a place on an uncurbed court was to obtain a lifetime grant of sovereign power. To serve on a court which has decided to follow the election returns is not nearly so exciting a prospect.

Unless the court-worshipping diehards are prepared to oppose any nominee who does not subscribe to the court in his briefs for the New Deal measures. He will be one vote on the right side—and that is all to the good. What is better is the fact that his appointment shows that the supreme court battle is over and has been won by the New Deal for the present generation at least.

that the supreme court battle is over and has been won by the New Deal for the present generation at least.

No cold is a "light" cold. No cold can be ignored or neglected. The cold that is pooh-poohed today is the cold that takes a serious turn tomorrow.

Deal with a cold in a business-like manner. Treat it for what it is—an internal infection! Treat it with a cold medicine not a cure-all.

The Treatment That Answers!

Grove's Bromo Quinine tablets (LBQ tablets) are what you want for a cold!

They are expressly a cold treatment, and not a "cure-all."

They are internal medication. Grove's Bromo Quinine tablets do four important things in the treatment of colds.

First, they open the bowels.

Second, they check the infection in the system.

Third, they relieve the headache and fever.

Fourth, they tone the system and help fortify against further attack.

Grove's Bromo Quinine tablets are nothing new or untried. They have been in use over 40 years and are the largest-selling cold tablet in the world.

That, in itself, is enough to assure you of their efficacy and dependability.

Play Safe!

The moment you feel a cold coming on, do the wise thing. Go right to your druggist for a box of Grove's Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets). Start taking the tablets immediately and you'll usually break up the cold in 24 hours.

Grove's Bromo Quinine tablets come in 35c and 60c sizes. The 60c size is the better "buy." It gives you almost 20 per cent more for your money.

Ask your druggist for Grove's

Laxative Bromo Quinine (LBQ tablets) and insist upon getting what you ask for. It's your money you're spending!

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 24.—"Memories that bless and burn: When Buddy Rogers tried to separate two fighting dogs—and was so badly bitten that he could not work before the cameras for a week. When Carl Laemmle, Jr., Hollywood's most noted hypochondriac, ordered new mouthpieces for every telephone in the Universal studios because a property man had trench mouth."

When Gloria Stewart won a bet from Alexander Kirkland by swimming four miles across Santa Monica Bay. When Director Clarence Brown, enraged at his star, Garbo, "told all" to the press and next day begged that the stories be killed. When Lew Ayres went duck hunting—and shot at the canvas decoys. When Ruth Chatterton burst into tears and fled from a preview theatre because the audience laughed at one of her most dramatic scenes. When Jack Pickford won $5000 on an Agua Caliente horse race—and invited everyone in the clubhouse to a champagne supper.

When the toastmaster at a Paramount banquet introduced "Our Famous Redhead"—and both Clara Bow and Nancy Carroll jumped to their feet. When John Gilbert sent Marion Davies a truckload of roses, 2500 blossoms, for Christmas. When Marie Prevost dashed through the fire lines and into her burning beach house, to rescue her pet kitten.

Never see Lew Ayres ambling in sartorial magnificence along the boulevard without remembering the stroke of diplomatic genius by which he acquired his first "ultra" wardrobe. Early in his career, he was signed for a "best-dressed" role in a Fox opus entitled "The Easiest Way." The studio had made for him by Hollywood's most famous tailor six suits at a cost of $200 each. Lew persuaded the studio to sell him the suits, at the completion of production, for half-price. Before he acquired them, however, he was signed for another dressy part by Warners. "I know where you can buy six suits, made by Mr. Blank, for half price, one hundred bucks apiece," Lew told the Messrs. Warner. They jumped at the bargain, gave him the six hundred—and cheerfully promised that when the picture had been finished he could buy the suits for $50 apiece. I have great respect for Mr. Ayres' business ability.

An amusing feud between Gail Patrick and the property man on her current picture, "Dangerous to Know." Seems that Gail, who is inordinately fond of chocolate candy, nibbled so voraciously and so often at the box of chocolates used to dress the set, that the poor property man had to make several trips a day to the candy store for replenishments. Naturally, he burned—and so did Gail when, on the third or fourth day of shooting, she bit into one of the fresh chocolates which had just been placed in the box. "Props" had given each piece of candy an injection of tobasco sauce.

All of the waitresses in the Twentieth Century-Fox cafe are attractive—but Irma Gardner is a "cum laude" beauty, the peer of any star on the lot. Like most Hollywood girls her one ambition is to be an actress and, today, she thought that at last her great opportunity had arrived. While she was serving luncheon, a rush call came in from Stage Four—"would Miss Gardner please come to the set immediately and report to Director Al Werker?" Irma rushed, and breathlessly announced her arrival to Mr. Werker. "Oh yes, Miss Gardner," he beamed. "We want to use you for the rest of the day—to show Phyllis Brooks the proper way to carry a tray." Hollywood is like that.

Last night, according to his plaint, my next door neighbor decided to see a movie. Turning to the drama page in the newspaper, he read the following ads: "... Last chance to see this sizzling, sensational, vivid drama of life, love and languor—the greatest picture of all time!"... "Screen plus stage in a dazzling diversity of entertainment. Yell, scream, SHRIEK at the wildest rampage of side-splitting comedy ever loosed".... The greatest love drama ever screened. Thrill to this soul-gripping masterpiece, the most dynamic production of the year." And there were others just as promising. "Which one did you see?" I asked. "None of them," answered the man next door. "They all sounded so exciting that I couldn't choose. I thrill to the superlatives—and then went to bed."

According to Fred Keating, who is always inclined to see the gloomy side of things, Hollywood is a town where a fellow courts a beautiful girl for weeks, finally persuades her to go with him to the biggest party of the year—and then mopes while some producer or casting director takes her home.

BODY OF OCEAN VICTIM IDENTIFIEDRAY HAMMOND INQUEST TO BE HELD AT BEACH*NURSERY PEST CONTROL WORK OUTLINED BY BUREAU CHIEF

Assistance with pest control in nurseries is the purpose of the bureau of nursery service, a division of the state department of agriculture, it was explained today by J. Lee Hewitt, chief of the bureau, who described the enforcement of laws relating to the labeling of nursery stock in California.

"Nurserymen," said Hewitt, "are licensed and thereby a classified list of growing grounds and sales places is obtained. This list furnishes the basis for inspection and law enforcement."

Grounds Inspected

The sales places and growing grounds are inspected at intervals both for pests and for the condition of nursery stock as to grades, names and labeling. The nursery service gives assistance in pest control so that only clean plants will be sold and shipped.

"When the nursery stock moves in the channels of trade, it is subject to inspection before it reaches the planter, with the intention that it should reach him properly named, in plantable condition and free from dangerous pests.

Purchasers of nursery stock should request their local agricultural inspector to check the labeling and condition of the plants to make sure they have received the kind and grade of stock purchased.

Aims Outlined

"All of this is toward the end that California shall have better nursery stock for the production of its numerous perishable food products for shipment to other states, which amount to one-third to four-tenths of all interstate shipments of such products, and at the same time that California shall have an unlimited supply of ornamental trees, shrubs, vines and plants for the beautification variety of climate and conditions of homes and cities in the widest occurring in any state in the nation.

Miss Florence Warmer
Is Inspiration
For Pleasant Affairs

Miss Katherine Budd and Miss Anne Detweller chose Sunday afternoon for assembling a group of friends in compliment to Miss Florence Warmer, whose marriage to Willard Keith will take place February 19.

Guests were received in Miss Budd's home, 1511 Durant street, where her mother and grandmother, Mrs. P. H. Budd and Mrs. E. R. Carhart, assisted in carrying out party plans. These included a program of guessing games on appropriate theme. Misses Helen Weissman was winner in one of the contests. Presentation of miscellaneous shower gifts to Miss Warmer brought opportunity to guess the contents of the various packages, with Miss Betty Reade winning a prize.

These prettily-wrapped gifts were on the dining table, whose centerpiece of white stocks, snapdragons and breath of heaven was overhung by a bridal white umbrella. Smaller tables decked with white blossoms were utilized when refreshments were served.

In the group with the co-hostesses, Miss Budd and Miss Detweller were the honoree, Miss Warmer and the Misses Betty Niemann, Helen Weissman, Edna Ebels, Betty Reade, Joy Townsley, Ruth Budd, Venna Goodwin; and Mesdames Ralph Gordon, Halstead McCormac, P. H. Budd and E. R. Carhart.

At Silverado

Saturday evening brought a party at which Miss Warmer and Mr. Keith were feted by Mrs. E. B. Deu Pre and her daughter, Mrs. Wills Deu Pre Billups, who entertained in their home at Silverado canyon.

There were games of interesting variety to occupy the group during the early hours. Winners were Mrs. Merritt White and Jack Snow, who scored high in one contest; Mrs. Ellen Tolson and Mr. White, who finished first in another.

Buffet Supper Honors Musician Dedicating Memorial Organ

With their spirits yet attuned to the flood of melody of vespers services in First Presbyterian church, a few guests last night enjoyed a post-vestry buffet supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rankin, 2106 North Main street, complimenting Clarence Mader, whose mastery of the new church organ, has given such joy to a large audience at the dedicatory service.

It seemed especially appropriate that it should be in the Rankin home that Mr. Mader was so pleasingly complimented, with J. H. Rankin joining his son and daughter-in-law for the hospitality. For the organ dedicated with such beautiful rites, was a family gift to the church as memorial to the late Mrs. H. P. Rankin, faithful member of the church over a period of many years.

Clarence Mader is minister of music at Immanuel Presbyterian church, Los Angeles, and the beauty of his ministry was fully exemplified in the program he presented at the dedicatory vespers.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Mader, who shared the pleasant hospitality of the Rankin home, as did the two young sons, Bill and George Mader. Completing the group with the hosts and their son, Danny, and the senior Mr. Rankin, were the Rev. and Mrs. O. Scott McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Whitford L Hall. The Rev. Mr. McFarland is pastor of First Presbyterian church, and Mr. Hall is minister of music, occupying the same position that Mr. Mader holds at Immanuel Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Rankin adopted an all-white color scheme for the table from which buffet supper was served, matching her white Wedgewood service with stocks, snapdragons and sweet peas. Evening hours were spent around a glowing fire from the pine knots that the hosts had brought from a visit to the camp site so recently acquired at Idyllwild, where they plan soon to build a mountain cabin.

Santa Anans present at this pleasant affair included with the honoree, Miss Cash, her mother, Mrs. Loretta Cash, with Mesdames Jennie Anderson, A. J. Smiley, Roy Beall, W. R. McBurney, Catherine Sherwin, Messrs. and Mesdames D. P. McBurney, Sam Cash, R. D. Smiley, Messrs. S. E. McBurney, J. A. Smiley, David Beall, Mac Beall, the Misses Ruth McBurney, Roberto, McBurney, together with Bob and Jim Smiley, Billy McBurney and a guest from Honolulu, Mrs. O. W. Robinson, now visiting her parents, the J. A. Smiley.

Other guests were Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Melilla Arkle and Thomas Pomona; Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Wharton and James Wharton, Laguna Beach; the Misses Henrietta Campbell and Dorothy Tremper, Orange; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Patterson, Gooding, Idaho; Mr. and Mrs. Will McBurney, Quaker City, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Scott Thursby, Arlington; Dr. and Mrs. O. S. Bay, James and Wayne Bay, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKinnis of Lafayette, Ind., uncle and aunt of the young graduate nurse who are spending the winter here.

Accompanying Mrs. Barnett and Mrs. Lloyd Babbitt to their home, 224 Orange avenue, for the weekend were Mrs. Frank Hall and Master Worth Hall. They were joined Saturday night by other members of the family for a gala birthday dinner.

Mrs. Barnett, who has lived in this community for many years, was born January 22, 1860, in Illinois. She holds membership in Sedgwick W.R.C. and its Pioneer club.

Ten-year Old Girl Has Birthday Party

Philathaea class members of First Presbyterian Sunday school shared an enjoyable evening Friday with Mrs. R. N. Hockaday, 2025 North Broadway, where program features expressed a wide variety.

After little Miss Sallie Hockaday of the home, expressed welcome to the half hundred or more members and guests assembled, Holly Lash Visel presented a group of studio pupils in a well arranged program. Miss Margaret Davies was accompanist for the various musical numbers, which opened and closed with choruses by the Junior Studio Singers, who sang "The Minuet at Marley" and "Prayer" from "Hansel and Gretel." The Misses Helen Rogers and Doris Lorraine Faupel were readers in this group of talented junior entertainers, and the Misses Katherine Stockton and Joanne Hockaday were soloists.

Games were played for the remainder of the evening, which was shared by the birthday celebrant and Barbara Lee Mayer, Emma Jean Robinson, Virginia May Brand, Carmela Ann Shrode, Joyce Ellen Schewe, Wanda Marie Collins, all of Silverado canyon; Bethel Marie May and Flora Margarett Howland, Santa Ana.

Mrs. Hockaday had assistance of a hostess committee comprising Mesdames James M. Anderson, Whitford Hall and William J. Jinkins, in serving refreshments to complete the evening's pleasures. Decorative details, given special prominence at the refreshment hour, were on a yellow and deep rust color scheme, with many chrysanthemums used.

Be Extra Careful about
STUBBORN COLDSRelieve Their Misery
this PROVED Way

TOO often, the cold that "hangs on" is a result of neglect . . . and neglect is always risky. Be extra careful of a stubborn cold, of course. But the safest course is to be careful of all colds. Don't experiment. Relieve their misery this PROVED way.

Here's What To Do: It's best to stay in bed and get lots of rest. Eat lightly, drink plenty of water, and keep elimination regular. And use Vick's VapoRub without delay.

This doubleaction loosens phlegm, eases irritation and coughing helps break local congestion. And long after restful sleep comes, Vick's VapoRub keeps right on working.

NOTE: If there is much irritation and coughing, or the air-passages feel clogged with heavy mucus or phlegm, even stronger vapor action is helpful. Pour boiling water in a bowl, melt it and inhale the steaming vapors for several minutes.

Vick's VapoRub is direct external treatment. No "dosing"—no stomach upset. Just massage it on throat, chest, and back. Then—to make its long-continued double

THE RULES

"Isn't there some way by which parents can get together and decide upon rules that all will accept and so save some of us the eternal wail. John's mother let's him—Mary's mother says it is all right. Jean's mother let's him, and so forth?"

No, there is no such pleasant road to peace. It may be quite all right for John to drive a car and quite all wrong for Jean, although both are seniors in high school. It may be perfectly reasonable for one girl to use a latchkey and quite out of the question for another girl to have any such liberty.

Parental decisions are based on the character and nature of the child in question. No two of them are alike in the beginning. No two ever grow at the same rate, physically or mentally, nor in the same direction. The differences are individual, and the parental decisions made for their safety and welfare must be individual.

It is best to get rid of the common notion at the start. Most parents think that they have to "treat them all alike." They need not and should not do anything of the kind. Any attempt to treat a family of children alike, by giving each the same privileges, denying each the same pleasures, is bound to come to disaster. Each must be treated according to his state of growth and development. What one can do easily another cannot do at all. It is best to understand that and have the children understand that, at the start.

A general tone can be set by the family and community. This involves principles of behavior. Certain things are not done. These are things that permit of no argument: drinking while driving for example, and others not necessary to mention. But the details such as at what age a young person shall have a key, drive a car, go out nights without check, live independently while still a dependent, must be settled individually.

The best basis that I have found for such decisions is the young person's sense of responsibility as shown by his behavior. If he or she has shown, by repeated actions, that his or her word is to be trusted, that his or her use of a car is sensible and safe as possible, that his or her judgment is usually good, father and mother are justified in allowing that young person full enjoyment of the privileges he or she claims. But, if the contrary is true, the parents are fully justified, even forced, to refuse such privileges.

One young man told me a long story of the injustice, harshness, prejudiced actions of his parents. They wouldn't give him weekly pocket money. He got it by the day. He was not allowed to use the car. He was not allowed to go out at night without someone from the results of his behavior, but they couldn't have it.

Each according to his expression of responsibility.

This lad had smashed two cars and injured one person; he had cut college and gone on a trip for which his father had to pay; he said he was going one place and went another; he said he would be home at a certain hour and did not come home at all. And he wanted his liberty. I'm sure his father and mother longed for freedom from the results of his behavior, but they couldn't have it.

GOVERNOR TO SPEAK AT CHAMBER DINNER

GALLS SPECIAL VENIRE IN CASE

Exhausting the jury list called for $15,000 damage action of Roy S. Head against Charles O. Wilson and the County of Orange. Superior Judge H. G. Ames ordered a special venire of 12 jurors to report at 2 p.m.

Head sued Wilson and the county for damages he said were sustained when a county ambulance and an automobile driven by Wilson collided and smashed into his service station at First street and Verano road, last June 10. Fire that resulted from the crash destroyed Head's service station and residence for which he is seeking damages.

The jury panel was exhausted when Judge Ames excused all jurors who had been called for trial of the suit of Mrs. Ernest Biggs, wife of the ambulance driver who was cremated in the crash, against the county and Wilson's suit against the county for injuries sustained in the same accident.

Mrs. Biggs sued the county for $25,000 for the death of her husband, the suit resulting in a jury disagreement and will be reset for trial.

Wilson, in his action, won judgment of $2800 against the county. This judgment has been satisfied.

Abney today filed a petition in superior court for letters of administration over the estate of Florabel Bowie, of Toledo, Ohio, who died last December 21, leaving a $4,000 interest in the late Julia Karchner Poiser's estate in Orange county. Scout Council To Meet At H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 24.—The district council of the Boy Scouts will hold its regular monthly meeting in Memorial hall tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced today by James P. Ranney, district commissioner for the local Boy Scouts.

One of the first things she did, after she received a wire from Uncle Tippy wishing her happiness and sending her several thousands of dollars with a letter of credit for the bank, was to shed that other girl's clothing.

She was a bit tired, she discovered suddenly—one day that dragged unusually long with Bret away—the shoddy navy suit and the black dress and all of those somber, sensible things.

That evening when Bret, tired and dusty, came back to the bridal suite he found a girl he had never seen before, a girl whose golden curly hair had been carefully shampooed and waved, whose nails were like coral jewels, whose slender figure wore a lovely frock of softest blue, matching the shining excitement in her eyes, whose ankles were encased in cobwebby hose and feet in high-heeled, dainty slippers. In brief, a girl who might have stepped from a page of a fashion magazine.

"Good Lord!" he exclaimed.

"What have you done to yourself, honey?"

"Don't you like me?" Connie executed a little dance step around him, showing off her finery.

"You're very grand," he said.

There was a puzzled look in his dark eyes. One could not tell whether he was pleased or not.

"But I'm afraid to touch you," he raised his hands, dropped them, comically, at his sides.

"Oh, you needn't be," she said lightly.

"See," catching him by the hand and pulling him on into the other room, "there are plenty more pretties, should you miss this one!"

But something told her that tears and tantrums, maybe even kisses and young slim arms might not always win if Bret felt himself entirely in the right.

BRET'S dark eyes grew sober.

"You forget, my sweet," he said, "that I'm not in a position to take my wife traveling around the world. If we went, we would have to go on your money. I don't believe I'd like that."

"You forget," Connie reminded,

"that my money is now our money.

DRIVE CAREFULLY -SAVE A LIFE-

APPRECIATIVE PENSIONER

If ever a man needed smelling salts to recover from astonishment it must have been that Ingham county, Michigan, pension official to whom a widow returned $1765 which she had drawn as a mother's pension, explaining she didn't need it any longer.

The widow, Mrs. Emma Fleischauer, was left destitute after the 1929 stock market crash, and thereafter eked out a meager living on her pension. Then her stocks began to come back, and now are paying dividends.

As soon as she had saved up the amount she had received in pensions, she returned the $1765 to Ingham county, with her appreciative thanks.

In this mercenary world of ours, such action is almost inconceivable. It is something rare and may never happen again. So make a note of it.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

News that the army sent one of its huge new "Flying Fortress" planes across the country in 11 hours should reassure those who have feared that the nation is not prepared adequately to defend both of its shores.

It lends a feeling of security to know that, even if the entire air force were based on one coast or the other, it could make a cross country flight between dawn and darkness to meet any enemy or cope with any emergency.

Army officials said the recent flight was "the fastest ever made by a military plane," which seems to answer some of the arguments of those who contend foreign powers are far ahead of the United States in military aircraft development.

ALCATRAZ FOR WOMEN

Probably, as much as any other one thing, the federal penal system has needed more adequate provision for women prisoners.

The announcement that the government proposed to build a sort of "women Alcatraz" should, therefore, receive public approbation for overshadowing any hesitancy because of the cost of such a prison.

There are women criminals in this country who are just as vicious, just as depraved and incorrigible, as their male companions in crime. They should be placed where their evil influence will not be allowed to touch first offenders—women whom society may, with reason, hope to convert into honest citizens.

The chief motive of penology—redemption from crime—will be served by such a prison for incorrigibles.

FEEDING THE HUNGRY

A recent public health survey, financed by a $4,000,000 WPA allotment, resulted in the not too startling information that poor people are not as healthy as those who have money to spend on good food and doctors.

Simultaneously, Columbia University announced after exhaustive tests that $1.25 will provide three good meals per day for a family of five on relief.

For the $4,000,000 in relief funds spent on the health survey, 3,200,000 five-person families (16,000,000 persons) could have been fed for one day, more than 40,000 persons could have been fed for an entire year, using the university's menus.

The health survey probably provided some helpful information and gave some jobs to canvassers, but it's just possible that the well-being of poor people might have been benefited more by feeding 40,000 of them for a year than by inquiring about their health.

LEGAL, BUT DANGEROUS

By an unanimous decision, the supreme court has dismissed a suit brought by a number of utility companies to determine the legality of the federal government's grants and loans to communities for the purpose of erecting municipal electric plants. The court decided that the grants, being public works, were constitutional.

This settles the legal side of a much-debated question. It does not settle the much more important question of the wisdom of a democracy promoting socialism. The policy of our government subsidizing municipalities to build tax-exempt electric plants, is but the first step toward undermining private enterprise as we have known it in our nation. Once entrenched, the politicians will extend their hold to other businesses.

In practically every instance, towns which have accepted federal grants and loans to build municipal electric plants were adequately and economically served by heavily taxed, publicly regulated private electric companies. When those towns took the grants (actually public doles), it means that all the taxpayers of the country were forced to donate for a purely local undertaking. And when they took the loans, it meant that every local property-owner was mortgaged to pay part of the cost of providing a service which he already had enjoyed without financial responsibility on his part.

The people should not be blinded to the ultimate danger of such a government policy. Each time it is extended, their own private rights and liberties are reduced, their own opportunities to make an independent living are restricted and the iron hand of officialism tightens its grasp on the individual citizen.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

"OVER-PRODUCTION"

Santa Ana children are obliged to read more words in the Harold (Red) Rugg books than is printed in the 35 to 40 different authors in the Bible. The educators in Santa Ana schools seem to think that Rugg is wiser than all the different authors combined in the Holy Bible. They require the children to read this much from one man. They read so much from one man that they have little time to read anything else.

Rugg attempts to handle so many different subjects that he knows practically nothing about any fundamental subjects which he discusses. He parrot-like repeats what he has read in some other book but has no ability to analyze or recognize fallacies.

The absurdity of saying that business can develop too fast or that we can have over-production is an example of Rugg's loose thinking.

We know of no man, nor does Rugg, who has as much as he desires and when no individual has as much as he desires and we have 125 million people, the statement that we have over-production or that business has developed too fast, is simply ridiculous.

Yet, this is the kind of doctrine that our children are forced to read. It is only natural for children, when their parents compel them to read book after book of the same author, to believe that the author is wise and that he is telling them things which will be beneficial to them. It takes a very rare child with his immature mind to be able to recognize fallacies that starry-eyed educators compel them to study.

THE PRINTING OF TEXT BOOK MONOPOLIES

The recent airing of the discrepancy in bids for the use of copyrighted plates to be used as text books brings to view the short-sightedness and absurdity of making a monopoly of text books.

It seems that in order to "make work" for publishers or printers in the state of California, all text books must be printed in the state; that in order to do this, it is necessary to buy the copyrights on these various text books. Therefore, in order to have a complete variety, it would be necessary to buy all copyrights. In order to have it economically performed, the citizens of California can buy only one set of copyrighted text books.

This, of course, prevents a selection to suit the different beliefs of different educators and teachers are, thus, obliged to teach in a manner they do not believe to be efficient because they are supplied with text books in which they do not believe.

We, thus, create a monopoly out of the most important of all things—education. If there is any one thing in the world in which there should be competition, it is the most important thing in our lives—education. When we have competition, then the best, through the law of natural selection, survives. Then people have a right to experiment with different methods and they can see and observe for themselves which is the most efficient.

But, under the present monopoly system in text books, there is no chance for this choice, which is so necessary if we are to eventually make progress in education.

By all means this pernicious practice of buying copyrighted rights to reproduce should be discontinued and the books themselves should be bought. Then small quantities can be bought from different publishers representing different lines of thought and methods of teaching without wasteful extravagance. Under this method then all the different theories and plans of education can be used and by evolution, the best one eventually will survive, if left to free choice.

If the original purpose was for economy or to create a nice soft job for some publishing firm in California, it is certainly a most expensive plan because there is nothing too good when it comes to intelligently and wisely educating the youth of the land.

TWO NOTIONS OF GOVERNMENT

"The two notions of government, one to regulate things by a committee of control and the other to let things regulate themselves by a conflict of interests between free men—are diametrically opposed."

On this subject, William Graham Sumner, in his book, "What Social Classes Owe to Each Other," says, "and the former (referring to committee control) is corrupting to free institutions, because men who are taught to expect government inspectors to come and take care of them lose all true education in liberty. If we have been all wrong for the last three hundred years in aiming at a fuller realization of individual liberty, as a condition of general and widely-diffused happiness, then we must turn back to paternalism, discipline and authority; but to have a combination of liberty and dependence is impossible."

We seem determined to try it, although it has never been successful since in history.

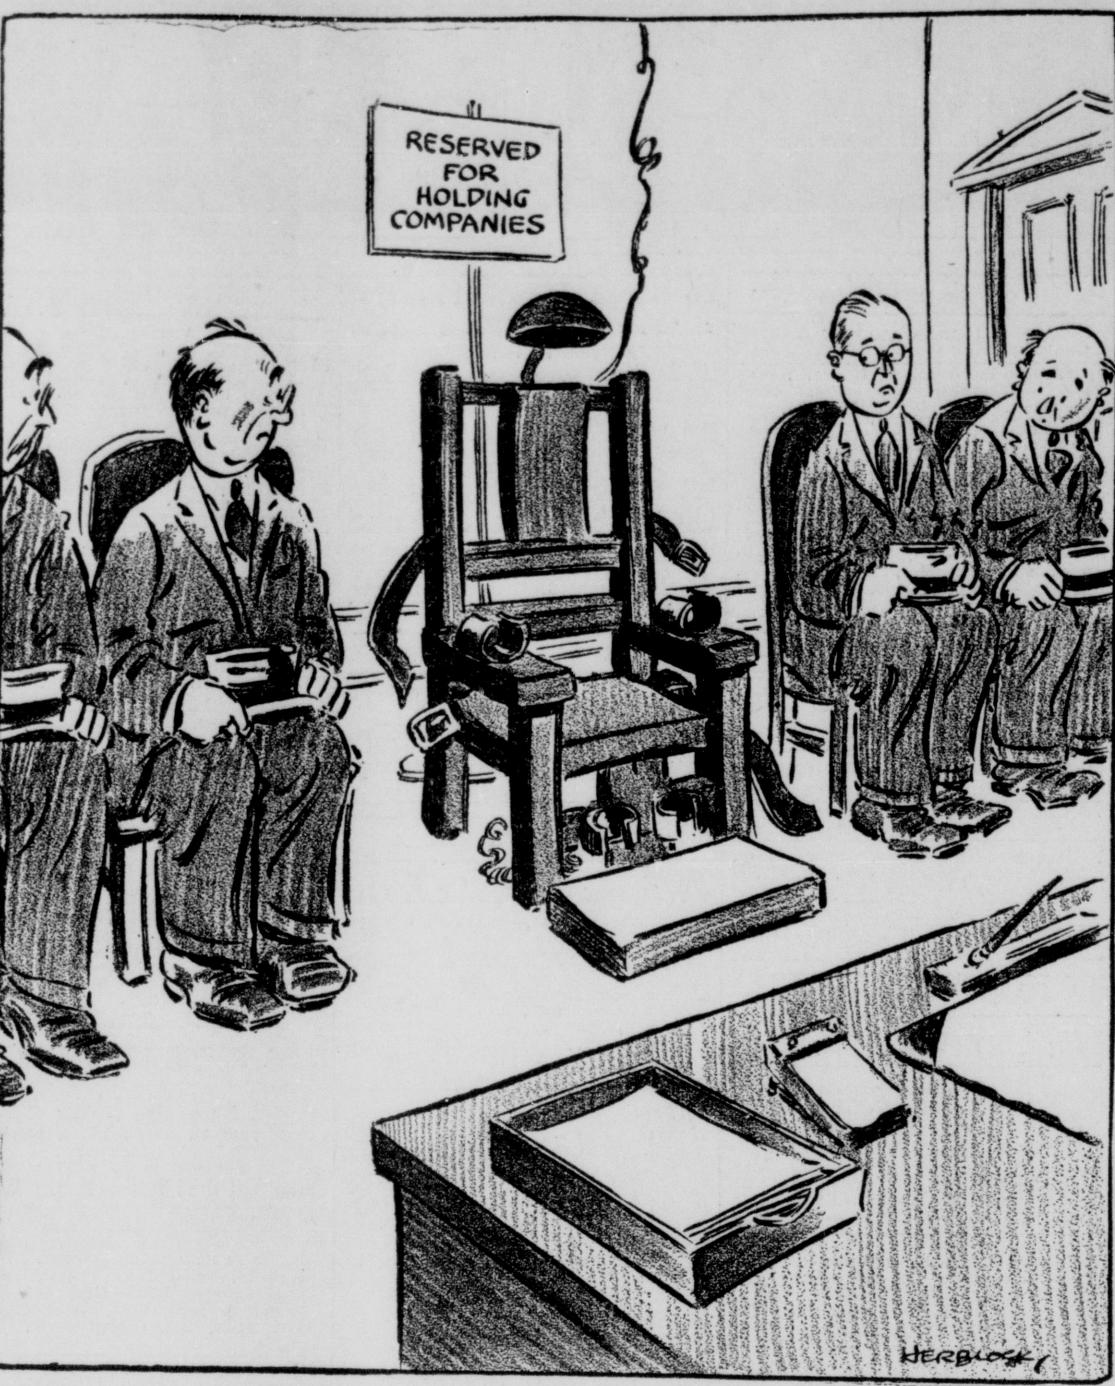

FRANCE'S NEW CABINET

The difficulty that France is having in establishing a cabinet and preserving the value of the franc should be interesting to every American citizen.

It will be remembered that France established a 40-hour week and minimum wage law. It might be well for the United States to consider the effects of its proposed minimum wage law, maximum hour law. It did not seem to work so well in France. There is no reason to think it will work a bit better in the United States. Wealth is not created by reducing production or taking from A and giving to B and having a large part of what is taken from A to give to B subtracted by the government bureaucrats doing the job.

The only result of this attempt to redistribute wealth is to make everybody poorer and the workers get less and less real wages. We do not seem to want to learn from observation, but prefer the expensive way. We have had five years now of national planning and still have one man out of five out of work.

Editor Register:

Mr. and Mrs. Cowden and family, who lost practically all their belongings in a fire which destroyed their home, wish me to convey their thanks to The Register for printing the story of their plight.

They also wish to thank The Salvation Army and all the many friends who came to their rescue, including the residents of the Santa Ana Gardens district. All the articles given were greatly appreciated and Mr. and Mrs. Cowden with their family are now started again in another little home.

Editor Register:

Advancing under the cover of a "Whereas" barrage, the local leaders of organized labor seem bent on taking Capital Hill. With stink-bomb, whiz-bang and whereas falling thick and fast, the labor leaders, one of whom openly boasted that he told our sheriff, "We're moving in to organize Orange county and you haven't got men enough to stop us," are having to send out an S.O.S. to make good the threat.

The main squawk seems to be directed at an organization known as the Orange County Citizens' Association. They get called the "labor busters" and come in for the heavy concentrated fire of the Union.

They also wish to thank The Salvation Army and all the many friends who came to their rescue, including the residents of the Santa Ana Gardens district. All the articles given were greatly appreciated and Mr. and Mrs. Cowden with their family are now started again in another little home.
